Social and Personal

A notable event of the week will be the reception given by the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities to-morrow afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock in the John Marshall House. This will be the third time the association has thrown open its doors to the members since the building was acquired by that organization. The beautiful old home of dignified proportions, with its ornamental mantels and paneling, will be made bright with spring flowers, shaded candles and Colonial silver. Dainty refreshments will be served. Mrs. Frank Williams is the chairman of the committee of arrangements, and has associated with her Mrs. E. A. Shuman, Mrs. J. R. O. McCabe, Miss Mattie L. Harris and Miss Bettie Ellison. A number of young girls will assist in serving the guests in the dining-room.

The officers of the association, members of the directory board and Mrs. Williams will receive. Any members failing to receive their cards on account of change of residence are asked to call at the John Marshall House for them, leaving their correct address. Admission to the reception will be by card of invitation only.

At Home Wednesday.
Mrs. John Calvin Metcalf has issued invitations for an at-home on Wednesday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock at her residence, 601 North Lombardy Street.

Pretty Tea.
A pretty affair of last week was the tea on Thursday afternoon given by Mrs. Arthur Robertson at her new home on Stratford Avenue, Glendale Park. The affair was in honor of the hostess's mother, Mrs. W. R. Davis, and her sister, Mrs. J. R. Woodall, of Charlottesville. The rooms were decorated with white and yellow, and the table was set with a basket of the same flowers and white blossoms. The tea table was set with a basket of the same flowers and white blossoms. The tea table was set with a basket of the same flowers and white blossoms.

At Address Alumnae Association.
Dr. Montgomery, of Richmond College, will give a lecture on Dickens, under the auspices of the Alumnae Association of Miss Morris's School, at 29 North Lombardy Street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It will be a very interesting and delightful event.

Entertained Here.
Mrs. Clifford B. Salmon, formerly of this city, but now of New York, was recently entertained in Richmond when she was guest of honor at an informal dinner at the Jefferson Hotel given by Mrs. Frank Higgins. Mrs. Salmon, who is an author and playwright of some small reputation, has just resigned her office as president of the Colonial Literary Club, owing to her arduous duties as a writer. The club presented its retiring officer with a beautiful antique ring of exquisite workmanship.

At the Dinner.
Mrs. Salmon in Richmond the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, Richard Underhill, Miss Annette Shelton, of Roanoke, and Fred Shelton.

Powhatan Dance.

Harris, Robert Porter, Harris, Wilson Vest, Irvin Vest, Charles L. Saunders, Wyatt Saunders, Lewis Urdine and Henry Page.

At the Woman's Club.
There will be a charming musical at the Woman's Club this afternoon at 5 o'clock, with Mrs. M. B. Thomas as soloist and Miss Zelle Minor as pianist, assisted by several other musicians of note. A delightful program will be rendered, and a large audience will be present. Mrs. J. Arthur Loftis is chairman of the afternoon.

Visiting in the South.
Mrs. Charles W. Toombs, of 602 West Marshall Street, who has been visiting in Florida since early in February, is being much entertained there, quite a number of interesting functions having been given in her honor. Mrs. Toombs will leave Tampa to-day, and expects to stop in Jacksonville for a few days, en route for her home, in Richmond.

Attending Dances.
Miss Laura Richardson, of Grove Avenue, was among the Richmond girls who attended the Easter hops at the Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, where she was the guest of General and Mrs. Nicholas. Miss Richardson, who is the daughter of Mrs. L. M. Richardson, will later visit in Staunton, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong Churchill Gordon.

Returned from North Carolina.
Mrs. Katherine E. Patton, who stepped from Raleigh, N. C., where she has been visiting Miss Cornelia Harris and friends at St. Mary's School. During her stay in North Carolina, Miss Patton attended the Easter dances at A. & M. College.

Edwards-Smith.
Mr. and Mrs. John B. Smith, of Highland Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edith Smith, to Joseph W. Edwards, son of the late Rev. J. D. Edwards, of Richmond. The wedding will take place in May.

Georgia Wedding.
Joseph L. Montgomery, Jr., and John A. Clarke left Saturday for Macon, Ga., where they will act as groomsmen for W. T. Dabney, Jr., who is to marry Mary Eugene Turpin, of that city. After the wedding, they will spend a few days in Atlanta and South-eastern points of interest.

Approaching Marriage.

In the Service of the King Circle of King's Daughters will also hold a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The subject will be held at the residence of the Misses Gray, 2501 Grove Avenue.

Benefit Performance.
An interesting charity function of to-day will be the benefit performance at the Superior Theatre, which will be held under the direction and patronage of the Silver Cross Circle of King's Daughters. The affair is for the benefit of the Shenandoah Free Hospital, and there will be special features of interest.

St. John's Circle.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Steinbach, on the Mechanicsville Turnpike, was the scene of a beautiful wedding last Wednesday, when their daughter, Miss Lydia Pauline Steinbach, became the bride of Otto Adolph Fink.

The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock, and Rev. Oscar Guthrie, pastor of St. John's German Evangelical Church.

The house was decorated with palms, hyacinths and lily of the valley. The bride wore a gown of white emerald-broidered chiffon over crepe de chine, and a tulle veil with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Louise Julia Steinbach, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a charming gown of white champagne with an overdress of lace caught up by pearls. She carried pink carnations. Charles Louis Fink, brother of the groom, was best man, and the two flower girls, Misses Louise and Emily Wadsworth, cousins of the groom, and the two flower girls, Misses Louise and Emily Wadsworth, cousins of the groom, and the two flower girls, Misses Louise and Emily Wadsworth, cousins of the groom.

The bride's party entered the parlors to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Miss Louise Steinbach, who also played the "Spring Song" during the ceremony.

Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is no to be a latent apprehension of distress to mar the complete joy of this expectation. But this is quite overcome by the advice of so many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to soothe and relieve the muscles and nerves, to thus relieve the pressure resulting on the nerves, that is not accompanied by those severe pains and many local distresses. Many people believe that these remedies which have stood the test of time, and which have been put to every trial under the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in continual use since grandmothers' earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women gladly recommend.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle and write for a special book for expectant mothers. Address: Bradfield Regulator Co., 207 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

TONE OF SOBRIETY AT LONG CHAMPS

Modesty of Gowns, Created Especially for Queen Mary's Week, Is Feature.

FLOWERS ON WHITE GLOVES
Women Acquire English Appearance by Wearing Single Eyeglasses.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)
Paris, April 19.—The modesty of the gowns created especially for Queen Mary's week in this city was the feature of the brilliant fashion display at Long Champs to-day. Society turned out in full force for the occasion, which was regarded as a sort of curtain-raiser to the royal week, during which delicate styles and above-class bodies are to be severely barred. The only fresh manifestation at Long Champs to-day consisted of long white kid gloves with flowers and landscapes painted upon them. Some of the designs were real works of art, signed by artists of note.

In a frantic effort to acquire as English an appearance as possible, scores of women sported single eyeglasses, a style which in most cases was far from becoming, on account of the facial gymnastics the majority had to resort to to keep the monocles in place.

Otherwise, sobriety, inspired by the high quarters, pervaded the paddock, imparting an unusually distinguished character to the gathering.

A charming new model is a semi-tight fitting costume of fine blue serge or shiny taffeta. The bodice is fastened down the front to several inches below the waist line, with innumerable small buttons, and the skirt falls in pleats on tiny drouces to the feet.

One characteristic of this gown is that a series of circular folds, the edges of which were frayed an inch deep and spread out softly when caught by the breeze. Another new and becoming model of exceedingly simple type is in dark blue taffeta, with a tight fitting bodice slightly tucked at the waist, the tone touch of color being a flat red rose worn on the left side of the upper arm.

A pretty actress looked quaint in a tight-fitting black satin dress with the sleeves markedly of crepe satin, and tulle also of lace falling from a black satin sash. Small coats edged with very narrow black silk trimmings, the skirt is also finished with the same braid, while the petticoats of black satin show beneath the skirt edge. The revival of jet seems probable, judging from the favorable criticism to-day of a few models on view.

Straw hats predominated to-day and, in respect to Queen Mary's view of the International Congress for the welfare of Children, which will convene in Washington to-morrow.

Representatives of thirty States have also appointed representatives. Mrs. Frederick Schott, of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers, will preside at the sessions.

Among the prominent speakers will be Miss Julia Lathrop, of the United States Children's Bureau; Mrs. R. H. Alexander, organizer of the National Council of Mothers of Japan; Zorita D. Furness, of Bulgaria; Miss Pingue Hu, official representative of the Chinese Government; Mrs. Orville T. Bright, of Chicago; Dr. Maximilian B. Gossamann and Judge Ben Lindsey.

NEWS OF ASHLAND

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Ashland, Va., April 19.—At a meeting of the Town Council held on Friday night, the matter of reappointing the $10,000 bond issue, made twenty years ago, was easily adjusted, the Hanover Bank taking the whole issue at par. The $10,000 water and sewerage bond issue was not definitely settled. A number of bids were received for the bonds. The sale of these bonds in all likelihood will be completed on Monday night at a special meeting of the Council, when the Finance Committee will make a report in detail of the several bids. The town sergeant was authorized to Blackburg, Va., April 18.—Lee E. Sutton, of Richmond, dancing with Miss Hazel Booker, of Bluefield, W. Va., led the Easter cotillion at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute on Friday night, this being the second dance given during the week by the college German club. Less than thirty of the German of the previous night, the cotillion was equally as pleasant, and graced by the presence of several young women who were here for the first time. Friday night music was furnished by a three-piece orchestra of Roanoke, and the choruses were the wives of various members of the faculty, some from town and Mrs. C. E. Williams, Mrs. Edward Stone, Mrs. C. R. Williams, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. Shirts, of Roanoke, and others. Some of those dancing were: Misses Elizabeth and J. R. Keen, G. G. Sutton, Misses C. R. Roanoke, and Benno Williams; Mrs. O. C. Burkhardt, of Blackburg, and S. W. Davis, Misses Vance, of Virginia College, and Edward R. Fox, Margaret Shirts, of Virginia College, and Vernon Gregory; Miss Rachel McDowell, of Roanoke, and Stockton Beth, Jr., Miss Liz Gray, of Blackburg, and Randolph Carrington; Miss Mona Clark, of Virginia College, and J. P. Patterson; Miss Frances Koehler, of Roanoke, and J. R. Keen; Miss Marion Coulson, of Virginia College, and T. P. Campbell, Jr.; Miss Shane, of Roanoke, and J. R. DuShane; Miss Elizabeth Garrison, of Farmville, and J. M. Teasdale; Miss Agnes McIntyre, of Warrenton, and C. W. McIntyre; Miss Willie Gault, of Charlottesville, and E. C. ## MARRIAGE IN OCTOBER.

Approaching Fort-Bowers Nuptials of Interest to Washington Society.

Washington, April 19.—As predicted last month, the engagement has been announced of Miss Martha Bowers to Robert Taft, son of former President Taft.

Miss Bowers is the daughter of Mrs. Lloyd Bowers, of Chicago and Washington society girl. During the last administration Miss Bowers was a frequent visitor at the White House, and spent part of each summer at Beverly Hills, the summer White House.

Miss Taft is now the daughter of Miss Bowers, and Robert Taft is a state legislator. The marriage will take place in October, and will be the occasion of a reunion of the former President and intimate friends.

Miss Bowers made her debut in Washington during her father's term of office as Solicitor-General of the United States. She is a devotee of tennis and Robert Taft and she had many a merry game on the court back of the White House when he was home from college.

Clemon—Nowlin.
Lynchburg, Va., April 19.—On Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Sallie L. Nowlin, her daughter, Miss Bessie Nowlin, was married to Frank S. Clemon, of Washington. Dr. N. N. Latham, pastor of Cobble Street Methodist Church, performed the ceremony.

The groom is private secretary to Congressman Lathrop Brown, of the First New York District. After a trip North, Mr. and Mrs. Clemon will take a residence in Washington.

Thousands who have changed from coffee to Postum know

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble form. A teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water dissolves quickly and makes a most delightful beverage, with cream and sugar added to taste. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

There's a Reason

Grocers everywhere sell Postum.

Wedding Gifts

While we maintain a standard of high quality, visitors are impressed with the moderate prices which prevail at this store.
